Dulles to Review Foreign Policy in Speech Tonight

Outline of Talk Discussed With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will review U. S. foreign policy tonight in a major speech aimed not only at American ears but also at Russia's new regime and tough-talking Red China.

Advance indications were that Dulles will:

Re-emphasize, with President Eisenhower's full backing, this country's "fight-if-we-must" stand on defending Formosa from Red Chinese attack.

Clarify U. S. policy on defending Quemoy and Matsu, the Chinese Nationalist-held islands which lie just off the Red Chinese mainland and within range of Communist guns.

Renew demands that 15 American airmen jailed in Red China be freed.

Appraise the recent shift among government leaders in Russia and answer last week's strongly anti-U. S. talk by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Speaks in New York

Condemn Russian and Red Chinese efforts to set up a diplomatic conference on the Formosa problem without the participation of the Chinese Nationalists.

Outline American policy in Indo-China and Southeast Asia and discuss plans for the Southeast Asian defense conference which he will attend in Bangkok, Thailand, beginning Feb. 23.

Dulles' speech will be delivered to the Foreign Policy Association in New York City but will be broadcast and televised to the nation at 10:30 p. m. EST by some networks and at 11:30 p. m. by others.

Administration officials said Dulles discussed the broad outline of his address with President Eisenhower at a White House lunch on Monday.

Soviet Shakeup a Topic

Of particular interest will be Dulles' statements on defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek said Monday the United States has made it "perfectly clear" it would help defend the islands, but the administration has denied giving any definite commitment to the Nationalists.

Dulles is expected to re-emphasize this country's intention to keep Formosa out of Communist hands because of continuing Red Chinese boasts that the island will be captured.

On the shift in Russian government leaders, Dulles is understood to believe that failure of Soviet leaders to agree on foreign policy, particularly on German rearmament, played a part in bringing on the switch. Former Premier Georgi Malenkov is reported to have favored a more moderate policy on Germany than the current Russian strong man, Nikita Khrushchev.

H-Bomb Can Poison Large Areas, But Fallout Need Not Be Fatal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The H-bomb can kill a city. It also is a fact, now officially confirmed, that it can poison a region of thousands of square miles and jeopardize lives far from the cratered ruin of the central target.

But your government has a word of comfort for you.

"In the event an enemy should resort to radiological warfare against us," the government knows what to expect. And it knows there are many things you can do to protect yourself.

Assuming you are not caught in the deadly circle of total destruction by H-bomb blast and heat, you can save yourself from that other H-bomb killer—radioactive fallout.

That is the official promise of the Atomic Energy Commission. Late Tuesday, for the first time, the AEC revealed hitherto secret facts about the H-bomb's ability to rain death upon populations too far from target even to feel a whisper of the super weapon's unparalleled violence.

An H-bomb comparable in power to the "thermonuclear device" tested by the United States at Bikini last March 1 can contaminate an area of 7,000 square miles, the AEC said.

In that event, your survival might depend "upon prompt evacuation of the area or upon taking shelter and other protective measures."

But, the AEC said, "there are many simple and highly effective precautionary measures" which can keep any place Tokyo preferable, including United Nations headquarters in New York.

The negotiations presumably would include discussion of a peace treaty, a prerequisite to resumption of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The Soviet Union was the only major Allied power that did not sign the San Francisco peace treaty.

Moscow's willingness to talk peace was conveyed in a note replying to a Japanese communication of Feb. 5 proposing that negotiations be conducted at the U. N. The Japanese note was forwarded to Moscow through Japan's permanent observer at the world organization.

A. I. Domnitski, chief of the unrecognized Soviet diplomatic mission in Tokyo, bypassed the Foreign Office to personally deliver the note to Prime Minister Ishiro Hatoyama at his home.

Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs Katsuo Okumura intimated that Hatoyama, while accepting the note, was not prepared to regard it as an official reply to the Japanese communication. He told a news conference that Hatoyama said the Soviet reply should be transmitted through the Soviet U. N. delegate to the Japanese U. N. observer.

"We have every reason to be confident that the 1955 Heart fund campaign will receive the enthusiastic backing of every thoughtful citizen in the community," Dr. Walsh added.

Four members of the Horning family today were in local hospitals.

Mrs. Ralph Horning Sr. is in the Harrisburg hospital because of illness that requires treatment.

Her grandson, Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horning, is in Lightner hospital recuperating from surgery performed last Saturday.

Her great-grandson, Dee, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Horning of Rosiclare, is in Lightner hospital suffering from pneumonia.

Mrs. Robert Davenport, wife of her grandson, is in Lightner hospital where she underwent surgery.

Three Injured in Auto Crash Corner Granger, College

Two automobiles were badly damaged and two persons were taken to Lightner hospital for examination as a result of a collision at South Granger and College streets during the noon hour today.

City police said the cars were driven by Theresa Kowitz and Simon Zimmer. She and Bob Hull were taken to the Lightner hospital. Reports were that the woman was shaken up and that Hull was complaining of his neck. Zimmer suffered a cut on the forehead and an injury around his nose.

Police said that Zimmer was travelling south on Granger and that the other car, which belongs to Tommy Paine, was crossing Granger from the west on College.

Wreckers were required to move the two damaged automobiles.

Fire Smothered At Oil Well Site; to Resume Drilling

The fire at the W. W. Blankenship No. 1 location northeast of Eldorado in Section 15, Eldorado township, was extinguished yesterday by smothering it.

Bulldozers, it was learned, shovelled dirt over the hole until the fire was smothered.

The fire started late Monday when gas from an entry of abandoned Seagraves mine was ignited, causing an estimated $140,000 damage to equipment and pipe.

Eugene Choiser of the John Steele Associates, who are drilling the well, said work was starting today to get drilling resumed.

He said Byron Rucker, the contract driller, told him that the workers, after getting the bit out of the hole, would begin setting mine string to 100 feet below the abandoned working. Setting of concrete casing also will be started today and as soon as the concrete has hardened for 72 hours, drilling will be resumed.

The hole was 550 feet down when the fire broke out at 4:50 p. m. Monday.

Coffee Spearheads Drop in Wholesale Food Price Index

NEW YORK (AP)—Coffee spearheaded a drop in wholesale food prices this week to the lowest level in four months on the Dun & Bradstreet Inc. Index, it was announced today.

The $6.69 index for Feb. 15 was the lowest since the $6.59 on Oct. 19, 1954.

This compared with $6.77 in the previous week, $7.11 a year ago and was 12.2 per cent above the pre-Korea $5.96.

Four members of the Horning family today were in local hospitals.

Mrs. Ralph Horning Sr. is in the Harrisburg hospital because of illness that requires treatment.

Fatally Hurt When Run Over By Coal Car

Ralph Larowe, 45, employee of the City Coal Yard, was fatally injured during the noon hour today.

Deputy Coroner Jesse Gibbons said that Larowe was at work at the coal yards helping spot a coal car when the car ran over him. The car was being run down to the conveyor to load a truck when the accident happened, running over the victim at the waist. He lived about 15 minutes after the accident.

An ambulance from the Gaskins funeral home moved the body.

Mr. Larowe had worked at the City Coal Yard for about ten years and was well-known by customers of the yard.

Mr. Larowe is survived by his wife, Goldie. They resided at 607 West Elm street. Other relatives are his mother, Mrs. Eldon Allen of West Homer street, and an aunt, Mrs. Lucy Hubbard, Harrisburg.

Broyles Bills Advance to Senate Floor

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Broyles "anti-subversive" bills today advanced to the Illinois Senate floor for debate bearing committee approval by close margins.

The Senate Committee on Aeronautics and Military Affairs Tuesday recommended passage of the bills, after a hearing at which a score of witnesses sharply attacked and warmly praised them.

Nine Republicans voted for one bill, with six Democrats against. The vote was 8-7 for the second measure, with one GOP member switching to the opposition.

Sen. Paul W. Broyles (R-Mount Vernon) and 26 other senators were sponsors of the measures, which would outlaw Communists and other subversive organizations, and require "non-subversive" oaths of state and local government employees, including teachers.

Robert H. Strotz, an economics professor at Northwestern University, termed the bills part of a "drive to insure conformity."

"Social criticism is becoming a lost art, as more people hesitate to express their honest opinions," he said.

Under the bills a teacher might be fired simply by being accused, "with no evidence required," he charged.

"No teacher in any school could speak with real freedom if the bills are passed," Strotz said.

Spokesman for the Civil Liberties Union, the Civil Rights Congress, the Illinois Conference of Methodist Ministers, and the American Jewish Congress also strongly attacked the bills.

Strong support for the proposals came from the American Legion and its auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and others.

Edgar C. Bundy, Wheaton, a former Air Force intelligence officer and lecturer, told the committee America's greatest danger is not the "card-carrying Communist" but "fellow travelers and others" sympathetic to Communist causes.

Filtration Unit To Ease Equality Water Shortage

Equality's water shortage problems were expected to be eased somewhat by Friday when an emergency filtration unit is placed in operation, it was learned today.

Mayor Philip DeVous reported that the unit was being supplied to the community by the State Civil Defense and that water would be drawn from the North Fork of the Saline river to supplement the present inadequate supply.

Of the town's two wells which have furnished the community water during the past four years, one was down completely. The other was yielding 13 gallons of water per minute yesterday which is not enough to meet the customary demands.

Both the Equality grade and high schools have been closed this week due to the critical water situation and re-opening date was uncertain.

Mayor DeVous described the portable filtration unit as a temporary measure until steps could be taken by the community to correct the water problem on a more permanent basis.

The town uses from 25,000 to 30,000 gallons of water a day, officials estimated.

Chiang Sees No U. S.-Russia Showdown Until Soviets Encroach on Territory

Editor's Note: Earnest Hoberrecht, United Press vice president for Asia, is a veteran of many years in the Far East and has met Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on the mainland of China and again in Taipei. In the following interview Chiang gives his views on whether he expects a showdown between Russia and the United States.

By EARNEST HOBERRECHT, United Press Staff Correspondent, Taipei, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-Shek said today a showdown between the United States and Russia "perhaps will not come until the Soviet Union is encroaching on U. S. territory."

The leader of Free China expressed his view as we sipped tea in the sun lounge of his home in the suburbs of this city.

The trim, alert Generalissimo sat relaxed in a large rattan chair across a long narrow room. I was seated on a divan.

The question was: "Will there be a showdown with Russia?"

The 67-year-old anti-Communist leader smiled. I got the impression he was not too hopeful the United States would stand and fight in the face of the next aggressive move by the Chinese Reds.

He considers the Chinese Communists nothing more than tools of Soviet Russia and insists they are working together to promote their aggressive aims.

Maybe Another Korea

About the showdown with Russia?

The generalissimo said an American showdown with Russia "perhaps will not come until the Soviet Union is encroaching on U. S. territory."

It was obvious that he was thinking about Russian attacks on American "off-shore islands"—U. S. possessions which might be compared with the Chinese off-shore islands of Tachen, Quemoy, Matsu and Nanchi.

I raised the question of "another Korea." Wasn't there a possibility the United States would stand firm against Communist aggression if the Reds attacked Quemoy and Matsu which might become "similar cases like Korea?"

"The United States cannot afford to withdraw any more at any point," he emphasized.

He said the withdrawal from the Tachen was a "sad experience" but that the United States had done

East Discusses Baptist Home at Kiwanis Meeting

Wade B. East, superintendent of the Baptist Children's home in Carmi, last night gave Kiwanians facts on the operation of the home there, the only one of 117 institutions in Illinois for child care which operates without tax money.

Facts which make children's homes necessary were listed by Mr. East as follows:

One out of 13 persons in the U. S. receive assistance of some sort. Sixty thousand children are in jail daily innocently because there is no place else to put them.

One hundred and thirty thousand illegitimate children are born every year.

Five million children in the U. S. have lost one or both parents.

Fifteen years ago children spent an average of six years in institutions while today those children who are sent to institutions spend an average of less than a year.

The Children's home in Carmi was founded in 1917 and during the past 38 years 500 children have been committed. Sixteen boys and girls from Saline county have lived there for a combined total of 97 years.

Baptists and friends in Illinois have contributed about $100,000 to Saline county in taking care of those children during the past 38 years, Mr. East said.

Good child care is expensive even in our own home, Mr. East stated, while poor child care is not worth what has been spent, he added.

The budget for operating the Children's home during this year is $126,000, he said. He also told of the humble gratitude he has in guiding the children who have been assigned to the home.

He urged the clubs in this community to help the younger people, adding "You never stand any taller than when you stoop down to help a child."

The program was in charge of Bob Burnett, who introduced the speaker.

Next Tuesday evening the Kiwanis club will be host to the annual Saline County Soil District meeting. The dinner meeting will begin at 6:30 and will be a ladies' night for both the Soil District members and the Kiwanians.

Adopt Rule to Limit Debate, Restrict Changes

Measure Calls for $25,000 Pay, Boost For Federal Judges

By United Press

A bill to raise congressional salaries by $10,000 a year cleared its first hurdle in the House today and appeared to be headed for passage before nightfall.

The House by voice adopted a rule, backed by sponsors of the bill, to limit debate to two hours and restrict amendments. This was a sharp setback for opponents who had hoped to "load up" the measure with additional provisions that might have jeopardized its eventual passage.

Speaker Sam Rayburn predicted it would be approved. So did House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. Sponsors expected no more than 130 votes against it.

The bill would increase the pay of senators and representatives from $15,000 to $25,000 a year.

The congressional pay raise bill also would hike the pay of members of the Supreme Court from $25,000 to $35,000, of lower Federal Court judges from $15,000 to $22,500 and of higher court judges from $17,500 to $25,000.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) opened the floor debate by urging his colleagues to join him in being "fair to ourselves."

Other developments:

Statehood: The House Interior Committee approved 19-6 legislation to admit both Hawaii and Alaska to the Union as states. The committee wrote into the bill a proviso that the President may detach up to 40 per cent of northern Alaska for military reservations before it becomes a state. Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) said this amendment means the bill will have an "excellent chance" of winning President Eisenhower's approval.

Schools: Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby testified that President Eisenhower's aid-to-education program is designed to spur states and local communities to go ahead rapidly with needed school construction instead of waiting around "for a possible federal grant."

The secretary of health, education and welfare appeared before the Senate Labor Committee, where Democrats are pushing a program of outright federal grants as a substitute for Mr. Eisenhower's program which would consist mainly of federal loans.

Cotton: The House Agriculture Committee voted to increase this year's government-decreed cotton planting allotment by 3 per cent to ease "hardships" of farmers who have had to cut their acreage sharply. It approved a bill that would add 542,000 acres to the allotment which is now 18,100,000 acres.

Awards Contract To Double Size of Dixie Grill Motel

Clint Jones, who recently bought a home in this city and shortly after that bought the Dixie Grill, motel, filling station and garage building on U. S. 45, formerly owned by Mrs. Douglas Sweatt, has awarded a contract to triple the size of the motel and bring the six units of the present motel up to date.

The C. B. Pulliam Lumber Co., Galatia, received the contract to erect 11 additional ultra modern motel units and to improve the ones on the property at present.

The Erton Real Estate brokers negotiated the purchase by Mr. Jones of the Sweatt property, and the Fredrick Gates residence, 1200 South Jackson street, a new ranch type home, following the sale by Mr. Jones of a farm near Galatia, which formerly belonged to the Peabody Coal Co.

They have added a TV room to the first floor of their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Gates moved to Springfield a few months ago to be centrally located for his work as a representative of the Hardware Mutual Insurance Co.

Mr. Jones is a former grocer who was in business at Carmi before moving to Saline county. His wife is the former Geneva White of Eldorado. He is a son of the late Louis Jones and was reared in the vicinity of Harrisburg.

Bob Fox, Former Local Resident, Dies in California

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parkinson have received word of the death of a cousin, Bob Fox, who died Saturday in California.

Mr. Fox was born and reared in Harrisburg and was 51 years of age. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Fox.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Irene Stewart of Corona, Calif. A sister, Mrs. Mae Blackman, and a brother, Luther, preceded him in death.

Funeral and burial were in Corona yesterday.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
One thing thou lackest.—Mark 10:21.

The rich young man was spoiled by wealth and power. He was smug and self-righteous. Christ prescribed a startling remedy, but the young man went away sorrowful. He might have been a world figure, but we do not even know his name.

Colleges and Communism

Editorial by Bruce Blossat
One of the more dismal developments of recent years has been the tendency of a few American colleges, under outside pressures, to ban any study of communism at all. It was reassuring, therefore, when a congressman stood up in the House and offered a proposal that would help counteract this attitude.

The lawmaker was Rep. Daniel Flood, a Pennsylvania Republican. He wants to see Congress set up a presidential commission to prepare a textbook devoted to the facts of communism.

In this part of his proposal, Flood is thinking specifically of the need to strip away the bewildering confusion that surrounds the issue of the current Communist menace in this country.

He would require the commission to rely fully on material gathered under oath by committees of Congress. Fundamentally this is admirable caution, but even sworn congressional testimony has many pitfalls. Evidence of perjury is often widespread.

Responsibility for sifting such material would bear heavily on a commission. Undoubtedly they would have to conclude that in some areas the facts were hopelessly clouded. But the prospect is that they could still assemble enough well-copied facts to produce a story of essential value to all Americans.

The commission would not stop at this, but would prepare suggested curricula on communism which schools and colleges could use to underscore the basic differences between the theory and practice of communism and the American democratic system. Here Flood is treading on more doubtful ground.

Insofar as this would mean that a government commission was encouraging U. S. schools to study the vital details of an alien philosophy, it would seem to be highly desirable. Such encouragement might help to break down the foolish barriers some schools have raised against these studies.

Yet there is a great risk involved. Suggestions are one thing, and orders another. Certain schools might tend to view the recommended courses of study as mandatory. And anything that smacked of dictation would be utterly foreign to our free education system.

Schools must be at liberty to choose what studies and what books shall be offered to students, so long as they do not in any way promote subversive doctrines — whether Communist, Fascist or any other.

Even if communism did not affect us, we would be bound to study it, as we try to understand everything else on earth. But the fact that communism is the greatest threat to our existence gives a compulsive urgency to its study. We cannot cope with an enemy in blind ignorance of his beliefs and behavior.

A commission to help lift the fog from the current state of the Red menace in America seems a good idea. But any such body would have to exercise extreme care to encourage — not discourage — the fullest, freest school inquiry into the whole wide range of facts about communism from its birth to its present frightening power.

The Declaration of Independence was written and signed and the Constitution of the United States drawn up at Philadelphia.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: GOP Congressmen May Defeat Own Pay Raise; Luxembourg-ers Miss Mrs. Mesta; Congressman Kean Is Good Samaritan.

WASHINGTON. — Some Republican congressmen are getting cold feet on passing the pay increase for judges and congressmen recommended by Eisenhower. Some are worried over voter reaction at home, others have law practices or private incomes and don't need the money.

So, despite the fact that the Republican congressmen have increased last year and Eisenhower has consistently urged it, the proposal may be defeated when it comes to a vote today.

It so happens that this writer has been directly or indirectly responsible for putting four congressmen in jail for augmenting their salaries with kickbacks or bribes. This isn't a record I like to brag about. On the contrary I would rather do something to place congressional pay in a bracket where there should be no temptation to supplement salaries.

Unfortunately the cost of living in Washington, plus the cost of campaigning at home, plus the cost of traveling back and forth between, is so high that congressmen are gradually being divided into the following categories:

1. Bachelors, who don't have to support a family.
2. Wealthy men who don't have to worry about low salaries.
3. Those who get subsidized by lobbyists or law firms, or have a personal expense fund.
4. Honest congressmen who scrimp and save and almost starve and eventually give up the struggle and leave Congress.

BRICKER'S BONANZA

To illustrate, Senator Bricker of Ohio is against a pay increase. He doesn't have to worry. His law firm in Columbus has received an average of about $50,000 a year from the Pennsylvania railroad.

Another illustration: Ken Keating, Republican of Rochester, N. Y., is a conscientious congressman, but is a bachelor, also draws an income from a successful law firm. Another illustration: Congressman Clarence Brown of Blaine, Ohio, also opposes the pay increase. Honest, forthright, lucky, Brown is personally wealthy.

Meanwhile, the struggle of the average honest congressman to maintain a home in his district and a home in Washington, with his expenses paid to travel home only once a year, has become so terrific that the amount of money borrowed in advance, on congressional salaries, from the sergeant-at-arms office, would shock the public.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt uses a non-scented airline, North American, to fly home to make a speech in Los Angeles. He can't afford to take a regular airline, and few congressmen who live on their salary can. If you see your congressman coming home frequently if he lives some distance from Washington, you'll know there's something phony about his income. When Perle Mesta first went to see "Call Me Madam," with Mrs. Truman and Mary Kay, the Trumans considered Irving Berlin's takeoff on Mrs. Mesta's diplomatic career shocking. Perle, however, has been such a good sport that the other day she gave a large tea for Russell Nye, the actor who played the part of the young State Department diplomat opposite Ethel Merman, who played the part of Mrs. Mesta.

Though the Luxemburgers were a little concerned at first at getting a lady minister today they are nostalgic about Perle, frequently wish she were back. . . . GI's in Frankfurt, Germany, are also nostalgic. They remember the big parties Mrs. Mesta gave on week ends to which they were invited.

The American commander at Frankfurt would let them out by the busload to take the trip to Luxembourg and Mrs. Mesta's GI parties. . . . Ike Eisenhower, who used to come to Luxembourg from Paris to cook in Perle's kitchen, is also a bit nostalgic.

A CONGRESSMAN'S HEART

Congressman Bob Kean of New Jersey, unlike most of his colleagues, is known to have a big bankroll. But it's not so well known that he has a big heart.

Mrs. Marge Moretti of Maplewood, N. J., however, has no doubts about just how big Kean's heart can be. The two got to know each other in February, 1953, when Mrs. Moretti, a widow with two children to support on a $40-a-week salary, lost her cash savings in a fire. The loss only compounded her anguish over her 12-year-old son Alfred's brave battle against muscular dystrophy, because the $1,600 that went up in smoke was needed for his medical expenses.

Like a good congressman, Kean came through for his constituent and expedited a Treasury Department refund of the charred bills.

In April, 1954, misfortune struck again, in the form of multiple sclerosis which forced Mrs. Moretti to leave her job. She desperately needed help to cover doctor and hospital bills. Without fanfare, Kean promptly sent a substantial check.

Last October Kean was instrumental in getting Mrs. Moretti, who by then was his personal "case," on the "Strike It Rich" TV show, where she won $500.

Then, a few days before Christmas, she had a relapse and was hospitalized for ten days. Not knowing where else to turn, Mrs. Moretti called her benefactor in Congress. Kean promptly dispatched a $275 check to the Orange, N. J., Memorial hospital to meet the entire bill.

Then, in a note telling Mrs. Moretti not to worry about the bill, Kean modestly added: "I do hope that by relieving you of this bill I have helped make Christmas a little brighter for you and the children."

Note — As a member of the House Ways and Means committee, Kean has benefitted Mrs. Moretti in another way. He helped liberalize the Social Security law last year, thereby increasing her only income.

Capping Exercises Friday at St. Luke School of Nursing

Forty freshman students at St. Luke's hospital School of Nursing will be honored Friday evening, in St. Louis will be honored Friday evening, Feb. 18, at capping exercises marking completion of the pre-clinical period of their training. A reception for parents and friends will follow.

An address will be given by Rev. Rollin K. Mossion, pastor of the Richmond Heights Presbyterian church, who is part-time chaplain of the hospital. Greetings will be offered by Fred H. Doenges, president of the board of directors, Dr. Carl E. Lischer, chief of surgical service, and Miss Joan Glascock of Harrisburg, president of the student association.

Grandmother at 31 Still Goes to School

FULLERTON, Calif. — Fullerton Junior college claims the youngest coed grandmother in the nation. She is Mrs. Beulah Reid, 31.

Mrs. Reid and her husband, Norman, a psychiatric technician at a state hospital, are grandparents, thanks to 14-month-old Pamela Kay Yokee, daughter of Mrs. Margie Reid Yokee, 17.

Mrs. Reid, whose schoolwork-housework schedule is on the tight side, is a native of Little Rock, Ark.

Alaska, Atomic Age Fortress, is 'Top Cover' Defense for America

Editor's note: The U. S. territory of Alaska stands at the back door of Russia and lies on the main air route between Moscow and Washington, D. C. It is therefore in America's first line of defense against atomic attack. A United Press staff correspondent has visited our military bases in Alaska and talked to top commanders. This is the first dispatch in a series of two.

By GLENN STACKHOUSE
United Press Staff Correspondent
ELMENDORF AIR FORCE BASE, Alaska (U.P.) — Alaska has become an atomic age fortress — with radar beams for lookouts and jet interceptors for cannon.

This Arctic land, with an area twice the size of Texas and a population that could fit comfortably inside the city limits of Phoenix, Ariz., lies just a 15-minute MIG flight from the back door of Soviet Russia.

It sprawls astride the main air route from Russia to the United States. Most military men feel it is over Alaska that Soviet bombers would come if there is ever all-out atomic war against the United States.

Stratton Bill Asks Change in Primary Date

SPRINGFIELD — The Stratton administration has submitted its bill to change the date of the state primary elections.

A bill to hold the primaries on the second Tuesday in June instead of April was introduced in the State Senate Tuesday.

It has the backing of Gov. William G. Stratton, who unsuccessfully sought its enactment two years ago.

A major argument for the measure is that it would cut the length of political campaigns. Opponents have argued in the past that the June date would inconvenience farmers, who are busy in the fields then.

Sen. James O. Monroe (D-Colinsville) introduced his bill to curb the activities of state police, who Monroe said should confine their work more to highway patrolling.

Other bills submitted to the Legislature Tuesday would:

Prohibit discrimination between sexes in payment of salaries.

Increase village trustees' salaries in villages under 20,000 persons from $5 to $10 a month.

Authorize county boards to fix speed limits on county roads.

Iceland has no illiteracy. This island republic publishes more new books per capita than any other country in the world.

For the military, Alaska is strictly an Air Force show. All three services are represented in a unified command, but it is no coincidence the whole shooting match is bossed by a three-star Air Force general.

The "Top Cover"
He is Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson, a hard-bitten cigar-chewing ex-pilot who is well aware his Alaskan command is furnishing the "top cover" for America.

Army and Navy operations in Alaska are pretty much on a shoe-string basis.

The Navy, under Rear Adm. Kenneth Craig, maintains almost no fleet activities and comparatively insignificant air activities.

The Navy headquarters is at Kodiak, and its mission is merely to maintain bases in a state of readiness.

The Army, under Maj. Gen. James F. Collins, numbers less than a full division of infantry, with headquarters at Fort Richardson, a few miles from Anchorage.

The primary mission of the military is the defense of the United States, not Alaska. The Air Force's early warning radar network is here to furnish the first red alert if bombers streak out of Siberia toward the heart of America.

A Calculated Risk
And Air Force pilots are ready to scramble their rocket-firing F-89 Scorpions into the air in an attempt to blast the bombers from the sky before they can reach the inner defenses of the homeland.

The defense of Alaska itself is set up on a calculated risk basis. Although it is only a 60-mile trip across the Bering Strait from Russia's Chukotski Peninsula, no one in the military feels the Russians would try an actual invasion of Alaska.

"I don't think there ever will be any big land campaign in Alaska," Atkinson said. "I don't rule out the possibility of at least limited action due to enemy paratroop operations, but these we can handle as they occur."

What if the Soviets try to establish a beachhead on some remote coastal area? "We'd just leave him there," Atkinson said. "He couldn't go anywhere in that kind of country."

Tomorrow: How radar and jets guard our Alaskan approaches.

TO THE VOTERS of SALINE COUNTY

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of State's Attorney of Saline County. By way of introducing myself to you, here are a few pertinent facts about my background and qualifications for the office:

I was born and raised in Eldorado, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson. I attended grade school and high school there, and attended Indiana State University at Terre Haute for 3½ years before enlisting in the army in 1942. After 38 months as an infantryman and member of a tank destroyer unit, I received my discharge and returned to Indiana State to complete work on my B. S. degree. I received my law degree from Chicago Kent College of Law in 1949, and remained in Chicago for two years with the legal department of Railway Express, before returning to Eldorado to practice law. At the present time I am city attorney.

I believe I am capable and qualified to represent the citizens of Saline County as your State's Attorney, and I hope to greet a great many of you personally before the primary election, May 11th. To those of you whom I am physically unable to contact, I earnestly solicit your vote, your support, and your influence.

YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG ONCE . . . After that you have to think up a new excuse for wearing bold ties as this group of over 100 original patterns and designs. They were $4.95, but you can't wear 'em like that at $1.50. You can use 'em to shine your shoes at— 39c or 3 FOR $1.00

WHAT WE AIN'T GOT IN SELECTION . . . we make up for in monotony. Just more and more of the same. About 40 pairs of men's rayon slacks that once boasted a price tag of $6.95. We're not bragging any more, but surely, slick as they are, they'll slide out during "Dog Days" $2.99 PR.

SOMETIMES HARD TO TELL . . . whether you're talking behind a man who needs a haircut or a woman who just got one. But, one glimpse and you can tell the difference in the price tag on this group of 20 men's dress shirts that have been reduced from $3.95 to only $1.66

AIN'T LIFE A STRUGGLE? . . . But, you won't find any resistance here during "Dog Days" when you try to pick up one of these men's $6.45 rayon or cotton robes in M, or L sizes for a mere $2.88

DON'T BLAME US . . . if these creep up on you and you squirm or twist all day. 'Cause we're telling you these are men's rayon shorts in fancy patterns and dinky solids and we were supposed to get $1.50 per for this group of 50. Don't think we're not squirming when we beg you to take 37c PR. 'em for

LIKE THE DACHSHUND . . . these are a low-down "dogs" and some of 'em are a dog-and-a-half long, too! Most of these haven't been around too long. We don't know their names but we've got their number, and it's 75 prs. in sizes from 6 to 12. Men, if the styles of the shoes don't scare you, we don't think the price will. Not if $4.99 PR. we whisper

WITH A LIBERAL SMILE . . . and one of these all wool sport coats there's no telling what might happen. Can't guarantee the results but just hope for the best. We'll give you our prettiest smile if you'll just take these $ Reg. $24.95 to $35 sport coats (size 34 to 40) off our hands $13.50 during "Dog Days" for

GONE FROM BAD TO WORSTED . . . this group of 35 men's all wool suits. Maybe the billfold pockets are a little small but you gonna suggest they sew 'em up entirely next year. Don't laugh! We once thought they were worth $45 but you've changed our mind. You bet we'll settle $19.88

NEVER MIND THE WEATHER . . . Sunshin, rain, sleet, snow or ice, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are "Dog Days" at Hart's. Come by bus, train, airplane, automobile or afoot, but be sure to come for fun, excitement and bargains. Better follow the crowd and line up at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to rush in and grab an armload of this junk. The more you spend—the more you save? $50c

CORDS WITH NO STRINGS ATTACHED . . . We know it's wintertime but summer is coming and then you'll wish you had one of these men's Reg. $29.95 rayon suits clear with no strings attached $11.88 for only

SINGULAR AT THE TOP AND PLURAL AT THE BOTTOM . . . Wish we could think of some other good points to tell you about this group of 30 men's wool slacks, in sizes 29 to 38. Sure misjudged you when we priced these at $12.95 and later at $8.95. Come and get 'em during "Dog Days" $4.90 PR.

IF THINGS DON'T IMPROVE . . . may have to go to Europe and live off Uncle Sam. Believe we can hold out a little longer though if we can just get rid of this group of 30 men's jackets that you've been passing up at $7.95. Some are lined and the others ought to be. During "Dog Days," we'll get your knees if you'll just offer $3.88

TROUBLE IN THE NEST? . . . We can fix that. Suggest you hurry to Hart's "Dog Sale" tomorrow and pick up an armload of these former $3.95 men's broadcloth pajamas. He won't care how much you spent but how much you saved. Especially when you whisper the news that you bought these at— 1-2 PRICE

OLD PAPPY TIME . . . is catching up with this group of 5 men's all-weather topsuits in sizes 36 to 40. If we keep 'em any longer at $27.50 we'll probably have to pry 'em off the hangers. Of course, they're not much to look at but what do you care? $11.88 expect for only

WHY FIDDLE AROUND . . . when you can throw your money away right here on these men's corduroy sport shirts and save yourself some "fiddle." If you can wear a Medium or Large, you can't lose too much on these $5.95 values. $2.88 at least not more than

DOCTORS KNOW A LOT . . . They have inside information. Don't tell a soul but here's a little inside information on this electric shaver. It's long gone and needs a home. And, if you get in line early tomorrow morning, you could rush in and $14.95 pick it up for just

ALL TIED UP . . . and seemingly nowhere to go, this group of 42 men's bow ties. Sure thing they haven't been anywhere yet nor even bugged at $1.00. Distinctive patterns! (Don't if you can match these anywhere!) Yes, we'll gladly take— 39c or 3 FOR $1.00

ONE GOOD THING ABOUT MONEY . . . it never clashes with anything you wear even in a billfold. 'Cause we've been holdin' these 6 leather billfolds for ages, it seems, at $3.50. They have a place for your identification but we've removed ours before we let 'em go for 88c

NO WONDER THE BIG ONES GET AWAY! . . . Where have you been tryin' to keep 'em? (Foldin' money, we mean.) Evidently not in a billfold 'cause we've been holdin' these 6 leather billfolds for ages, it seems, at $3.50. They have a place for your identification but we've removed ours before we let 'em go for 88c

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE YARN . . . you use as to whether you can pull the wool over her eyes. She may not believe you but you can produce the evidence to show that you were really at Hart's "Dog Sale" by letting the little woman take a peek at the Reg. $8.95 wool sport shirt you bought $3.99 for only

HOW CAN YOU DO IT? . . . Could understand it if you were able to take a shower without getting your feet wet. Otherwise, how do you keep your pants up without a belt of some kind? We've grown tired waiting for 50 men to pick these genuine leather belts up at $15.00. Don't care who gets 'em or what you use 'em for now if we only 50c get

TOO PRETTY TO HIDE . . . but you gotta' let it when you wear these lace-trimmed nylon panties. We'd better run and hide before the boss finds out that we've reduced this 60 pairs from $2.50 to $1.09

INTO THE STRAIGHT AND NARROW . . . these hinder binders of two-way stretch elastic will hold fast around the curves and help you to keep everything under control. Don't be taken in by these girdles at $5.95 or $6.95 'cause during "Dog Days" we're $2.99 turning 'em out for only

YOU NEVER CAN TELL ABOUT WOMEN . . . or if you can, you shouldn't! Sure thought they'd really go for this group of 34 fancy nylon gowns at $7.95 and $8.95. Please, give us another chance and take another look at these tomorrow when they'll $4.88 be only

WE FIX FLATS . . . and our rates are very reasonable. But, please don't expect it's possible with these padded foam rubber strapless bras. Though these have some dangerous curves, we've managed to flatten the prices from $2.98 and $4.98 to— $1.19 AND $2.00

BREVITY IS THE SOUL OF IT . . . and these short, challis pajamas are about as brief as they come. They seem to start from nowhere and end abruptly. The top is very brief and the panties brief. They say these are for winter but you wouldn't get too hot in these if you lived on the equator. They $1.77 aren't worth $2.98, but maybe

REAL STANDOUTS . . . In fact, they stand out so much that you can hardly get close to them. But a lot of gals like these can-can petticoats of nylon taffeta and net. If you ought to like 'em when we change the price tag from $3.95 to $2.99

THREE GOOD REASONS . . . for grabbing one of these misses' or nylon pullover sweaters. First, it should keep you warm. The other two reasons are obvious. There are 55 in this group that we're reducing during "Dog Days" from $3.98 to a $1.99 pushover price of only

NEVER COUNT YOUR CHICKENS . . . before they're hatched. You might get a rotten break. We did when we bought a lot of these silk and taffeta umbrellas thinking it might rain and you would need 'em. And now, for the results: 18 umbrellas, in value up to $9.95, going tomorrow at $1.99 AND $3.88

ONE GOOD THING ABOUT MONEY . . . it never clashes with anything you wear even in a billfold. 'Cause we've been holdin' these 6 leather billfolds for ages, it seems, at $3.50. They have a place for your identification but we've removed ours before we let 'em go for 88c

NO WONDER THE BIG ONES GET AWAY! . . . Where have you been tryin' to keep 'em? (Foldin' money, we mean.) Evidently not in a billfold 'cause we've been holdin' these 6 leather billfolds for ages, it seems, at $3.50. They have a place for your identification but we've removed ours before we let 'em go for 88c

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE YARN . . . you use as to whether you can pull the wool over her eyes. She may not believe you but you can produce the evidence to show that you were really at Hart's "Dog Sale" by letting the little woman take a peek at the Reg. $8.95 wool sport shirt you bought $3.99 for only

HOW CAN YOU DO IT? . . . Could understand it if you were able to take a shower without getting your feet wet. Otherwise, how do you keep your pants up without a belt of some kind? We've grown tired waiting for 50 men to pick these genuine leather belts up at $15.00. Don't care who gets 'em or what you use 'em for now if we only 50c get

CORDS WITH NO STRINGS ATTACHED . . . We know it's wintertime but summer is coming and then you'll wish you had one of these men's Reg. $29.95 rayon suits clear with no strings attached $11.88 for only

CORDS WITH NO STRINGS ATTACHED . . . We know it's wintertime but summer is coming and then you'll wish you had one of these men's Reg. $29.95 rayon suits clear with no strings attached $11.88 for only

"Dogs" in the merchant's language are items of merchandise that customers didn't want or didn't buy and have been around too long for their own good. It's merchandise under our feet. We've dug up some elderly "Dogs" for clearance during our 7th Annual Sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday at low, low prices. We're tellin' you maybe more than you'd like to know about 'em. If you don't want them for yourself, buy them anyway. You can always give 'em away. Fortunately, most quantities are very limited. All doors open promptly at 9 o'clock.

SHEER LUCK . . . that we didn't have any more of these nylon stockings left than we did. Especially, since we have to reduce the price on these 51 pairs 99c PR. from $1.95 to

THE RED MENACE . . . is still with us but it is trimmed in black now in the case of these 3 pairs of misses' nylon pajamas. Don't know why you continually passed these up at $8.95. Honestly, aren't $4.88 they worth

MISTER SANDMAN . . . is in for a thrill when you appear in one of these frilly nylon negligees with 3 pairs of misses' nylon pajamas. Don't know why you continually passed these up at $8.95. Honestly, aren't $4.88 they worth

NO WONDER SOME GALS ARE LIVE WIRES . . . they carry practically no insulation. This won't help much but one of these nylon slips will give you an undercover, at least. Then you can take it from there. About 37 regular $5.95 to $8.95 slips in the group and we'll be tickled pink $3.88 to get

ARE YOU COVERED? . . . If not, you could use a pair of these nylon briefs offered during "Dog Days," Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Let us do the worrying and you just take your new low rate of 89c PR. pay

OUR VOCABULARY MAY BE SMALL . . . but think of the turnover! A lot better than we're getting on this group of misses' leather belts at $1.50 to $4.98. We'd like to turn them over to you tomorrow for just— 69c to $1.99

WHY PROLONG THE AGONY . . . we ask ourselves! Might as well face up to it right now and admit that we shouldn't have bought these 2 infants' knit shirts to sell for $4.98. They ought to make good moth $1.99 bait though, at

NEVER MIND THE STARES . . . We won't tell a soul you bought one of those $3.95 solid cardigan sweaters during Hart's "Dog Sale" for $1.99

REAL WOLF BAIT . . . if you have the right underlying details to go with one of these figure-moulding T-shirts that we've been trying to sell at $3.98. We'll whistle long and loud if you'll take these off $1.99 our hands tomorrow for

ALL PUCKERED UP . . . and just about pucker up, this group of cotton blouse slips that we once asked you $3.98 for. Take your pickin' choice of this group of $1.99 68 slips during "Dog Days" for

WISH WE'D SAVED OUR MONEY DURING THE DEPRESSION . . . so we could afford to live through this prosperity without dealing with this group of women's handbags. You didn't even give 'em a second glance at $2.98. Don't know why we ever bought 'em. Just hoping these $1.49 change hands tomorrow at

FOR THAT TOUGH LITTLE TWIG . . . on your family tree, this group of 5 little Eton suits. In sizes 5 to 7 and originally sold to $8.95. Hope junior would like to have one of these now that they've $4.88 been reduced to

CUT FOR COMFORT . . . We've been uneasy ever since we first marked this group of 34 toddlers' cotton dresses at $1.98 to $4.98. Just knew we were stung again. What else can we do for some relief but cut the prices to about what you expected— $1.37 to $2.88

GAY AS ALL GETOUT . . . was our buyer's first impression of these toddlers' shirts. Just sure they would sell for $2.98. Only had 11 left (think we bought a dozen). Can't we get these out to some of you during "Dog Days" if we lower the ante $1.59

NO NEED TO WORRY . . . Dogs love little children and we just hope the little tots love these "dogs" we've accumulated for them. If they scream too loud, you can always use these little cotton dresses for dust cloths because they're already dirty. Whoop, only 16 of 'em (sizes 9-18 months) that were priced up to $6.95, that we gotta' let go at— $1.99 to $3.99

IF WE WERE A CHIMNEY SWEEP . . . we could do things to soot ourselves. And we'd rather be "in the black" than "in the red." We're still friends and all will be forgiven if you'll just take 'em for $1.59 only

ALL YOU WANT IS ALL THERE IS . . . and these 30 pairs of misses' nylon pajamas. Shipping charges on these 36 little toddlers' blouses in values up to $2.98? Of course, they're soiled but they wouldn't have been if you hadn't waited so long. We're still friends and all will be forgiven if you'll just take these off our hands tomorrow at $1.47

THESE DIDN'T GO TO YOUR HEAD . . . or anywhere else, this group of boys' flop-eared winter caps when we offered 'em to you at $1.95 last winter. Just see what will happen. We've reduced these during "Dog Days" to just 99c

THEY'RE ROUGH . . . to try to sell and rough to look at, this group of 7 little boys' brown tweed coats. Beited model in finger-pitch length that sell regularly (padding in, we mean) been offered for some time at $14.95. Sizes 2 to 7. Can't be responsible for what happens when you get home $6.88

SURE THING . . . This oughta' kick up a storm when you show junior one of these storm coats you bought at Hart's "Dog Sale." Only 2 of these (and are we thankful) in sizes 10 and 12, that have been $34.95. You can buy him a bag of candy too, if you $12.88 only pay us

IF THERE'S NO SNOW . . . we expect good reception on this 100 yards of nylon drapery fabric tomorrow when we slash the price from $1.98 to 99c YD. just

SIX DAYS A WEEK AND TWICE ON SUNDAY . . . we tried to figure what was wrong with this group of carnation bath towels. Maybe it's the wrong flower or the $1.98 price didn't suit you. Surely, there's nothing wrong with the size—22 x 44. You oughta' bring us a bouquet if we let these 99c go tomorrow for

THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO EVERY THING . . . and these ready-made drapes are no exception to that rule, each side being 48 x 90. Only 22 pairs in floral patterns but the price wasn't too rosy at $14.95 pr. How about— 1-2 OFF

HEARTS OF STONE . . . to refuse to pay us $19.95 for this Glabe portable radio in a one easy lesson or your money back. Won't you soften up a little and $29.95 make us a bid of

WE'VE GIVE YOU FITS . . . if you'll just stay with us long enough to find your size slipper to red your feet. 85 pairs in felt, sizes 6 to 9. Hope they're a $6.88 good. Tomorrow, just see if we won't take

AT EASE! . . . You'll need a rest after you've spent a day at Hart's "Dog Sale." So you might as well get a pair of these comfy house slippers to red your feet. 85 pairs in felt, sizes 6 to 9. Hope they're a $6.88 good. Tomorrow, just see if we won't take

WE COUNT OUR BLESSINGS . . . and sheep, too, but still lay awake nights worrying over this group of children's shoes. Patent was applied for and we got it, along with suedes and leathers in pink, blue, tan and brown. Sizes 8 1/2 to 3. No wonder we can't sleep when we gotta' mark these $4.98 to $5.98 shoes down to—

WE'RE IN A DILEMMA . . . Don't know whether we ought to try to dispose of this regular $8.95 blanket or not. It's 25% wool, 66% cotton and 15% dirt. If it hasn't shrunk lately, it is still 72x84 and is dinky yellow. Maybe we ought to keep it for posterity but guess we'll let it go tomorrow $3.99 for

IT'S THE FINISH THAT COUNTS . . . as during Hart's "Dog Sale" when you can rush in and pick up one of these 11 regular $9.95 multi-color chenille bedspreads $5.50 in full size for only

IT'S A STEAL . . . and the sheriff don't care if we let you have these 26 regular 48" hand towels tomorrow for 27c EA.

IF IT AIN'T ONE THING . . . it's another. Looks like we've got caught up some time but we only get "roughed." This time it's with 9 single blankets of Alabama wool (cotton to you) in blue, tan or green. Looks like we'd better share the price on $2.77 these from $5.95 to about

IT SEZ HERE . . . One lot of ruffled, tailored and tier curtains (they're ruffled alright but funny about the rest of it) that are to be reduced during "Dog Days," Thursday, Friday and Saturday from $2.98 to just— 1-2 PRICE

SO MIXED UP . . . we wouldn't know the front end of a goat from a magnolia tree. When we get settled down again, we may regret selling these 3 ladies' $24.95 wardrobe cases in red, blue or $13.88 green at

WANT TO GET AWAY FROM IT ALL? . . . Here's your bag or bags 'cause in this instance you have a choice of 3 matched pieces. Ladies' overnite, wardrobe or Pullman in natural rubber. Originally priced at $50 to $70. During "Dog Days" you can have one of each at 1-2 PRICE

ANYTHING TO CLOSE THE DEAL . . . Hold your hat, light your cigar, shine your shoes with $19.95 for this Glabe portable radio in a one easy lesson or your money back. Won't you soften up a little and $29.95 make us a bid of

In Remembrance
In loving memory of our grandson, Bobby Gene Dempsey, whose birthday would have been Feb. 16. Little we knew with the dawn that morn, the sorrow it would bring.
The blow was hard, the shock severe.
We little thought the end was near.
If all the world were ours to give, We would give it, yes, and more, To see your smiling face.
Come shining through our door. Sometimes it is hard to understand Why some things have to be. But in his wisdom God had planned.
Beyond our power to see.
God gave us strength to bear it. And courage to meet the blow. But what it meant to lose you, Bob. This world will never know.
The beautiful things you did for us. Live in our hearts each day. And keep you near and dear to us. Though you have passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Logan Dempsey. 195-1

Three Anti-Reds Surrender on Pleas of Priest

Give Up Just Before Deadline By Swiss Government

BERN, Switzerland — Three desperate anti-Reds who seized the Romanian legation building and held it for more than 40 hours surrendered today to the pleas of a priest.

They surrendered without the "fight to the death" they had promised earlier.

They had defied 100 Swiss troops and police for nearly two days in a desperate bid to force Communist Romania to release five anti-Communist political prisoners held in Red jails.

Their surrender came only 30 minutes before a deadline set by the Swiss government for the end of their defiant stand. Otherwise, they were warned, troops and police would attack the yellow sandstone legation. Two anti-tank guns stood nearby to back up the warning.

The three men, who had sworn an oath to die or win release for their anti-Red compatriots, called for a priest.

Swiss authorities said they told them they wanted to discuss with the priest release from their holy vows before deciding whether surrender was possible.

Men Face Slaying Charge
They had been promised they would be spared extradition to their Communist homeland. But the men, and a fourth member of the band who surrendered earlier, must stand trial in Switzerland for the slaying of a legation chauffeur who was killed when they shot their way into the legation building late Monday night.

Authorities said the priest, Dr. Beat Lorenz Sekinger of Bern's Trinity Church, called on the men after they had told authorities they wanted to make their peace with God and seek a priest's absolution before shooting it out with the assault force.

They marched on the besieged building with their faces masked by the hoods of their parkas.

The surrender ended for Switzerland a ticklish diplomatic crisis with Romania in which the two nations exchanged angry notes of protest. But there were strong indications more diplomatic fireworks may follow.

The Socialist Press Service reported the invading Romanians had uncovered documents in the legation proving the legation was an espionage center. The Socialist Press Service said the documents had been turned over to police for photo-copying. Swiss police would not comment.

Fearful for Relatives
Police said the men hid their faces as they emerged from the legation because they still had relatives inside Romania whose lives might be jeopardized if the Romanian charge d'affaires, Emmerich Stoffel, and his staff recognized them.

Stoffel, his family and the staff were chased into the streets in the midnight assault by the refugees. But Stoffel had spent most of the hours of the siege pacing the legation grounds. He demanded that police storm the building to arrest the intruders and passed out to newsmen copies of various Romanian notes protesting Swiss "inactivity."

Swiss officials said the little band of men — first believed to have numbered seven — entered Switzerland secretly and illegally to carry out one of the cold war's most bizarre plots.

A Swiss police officer, Capt. Herbert Althoff, who entered the building after the siege ended, told newsmen the invaders smashed legation files and destroyed Communist propaganda and books but left all valuables intact.

Proposes Fuels Policy to Protect Coal Industry

WASHINGTON — Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, proposed today that Congress adopt a national fuels policy to protect the nation's coal industry.

President Eisenhower's Cabinet Fuels Resources Committee had been scheduled to make recommendations by last Dec. 1. But it has been delayed by inability to agree on policy decisions.

Kennedy said the coal industry "is in bad shape" now. About 165,000 coal miners were jobless last December, he told the joint Congressional Economic Committee.

"If we had a war tomorrow, it would take eight months to a year to put the coal industry in shape to meet the needs of this nation and our Allies," Kennedy said.

He blamed the ills of the coal industry mainly on lack of export markets and competition of residual oil imported from Venezuela.

He said this country could export from 35 to 40 million tons of coal a year "if we had any sense." He said Western European countries are buying coal from Communist Poland "with American dollars" in preference to the U. S. product. Poland is mining its coal with machinery given to Russia by this country in World War II, he said.

"The whole situation doesn't make sense," he testified.

Queen Joan, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Dunn, was crowned by Bill Nolen, captain of the grade school basketball team. A large throne, attractively decorated in the school colors of red and white, was brought to the center of the gymnasium floor for the coronation ceremonies. Five girls had been nominated for Homecoming Queen and the entire student body voted Monday to select the winner. The queen's attendants are, left to right, Pat Dunn, Mary Pyle, Queen Joan, Sharon Russell and Betsy Ammon. Escorts for the attendants were Len Turner, Chuck Reeder, Johnny Noonan and Jerry Randolph, with Bill Nolen the queen's escort. Rosiclare was the homecoming basketball opponent, winning the varsity game, 46-22, and Carrier Mills won the preliminary, 17-15. (Register Staff Photo)

Thompsonville Trims Valier, 65-58

Without a single senior in the lineup, Thompsonville's Tigers trimmed visiting Valier, 65-58, last night for their 14th victory of the season. The triumph assured the Tigers of fourth place in the Little Egyptian conference.

Thompsonville grabbed an early 6-0 lead only to watch Valier erase this and roar on to a 17-8 quarter advantage. The Tigers rallied in the second and trailed only 27-26 at the intermission.

In the second half, Thompsonville sank 17 of 26 efforts from the field for a tremendous 69. Working in close for set shots, the Tigers made their endeavors pay off. By the end of the third they were ahead 46-39, and finished the fracas with that margin.

Thompsonville's reserves also won their tussle, 74-56.

The host quintet had little difficulty stopping the invaders, romping to a 23-12 first quarter advantage, the Trojans checked an Equality rally in the second and led 43-27 at halftime. In the third Crab Orchard rolled on to a 59-41 score and finished strong to win by 40 points.

Crab Orchard hit 57 per cent from the field to Equality's 36 per cent. Six Trojans scored ten or more points.

Sight Wreckage Of Plane in Italy

NORCIA, Italy — Italian officials directing the search for a Belgian airliner missing since Sunday with 29 persons aboard confirmed today that planes had sighted wreckage on a mountain side.

However, fierce winds, a blinding snowstorm and bad atmospheric conditions caused Italian authorities to suspend all air search for the missing airliner before mid-day.

Coach Refuses to Send Team Off Floor; Charges Poor Officiating

CHICAGO — Jack Rapper, Taft High School basketball coach, refused to send his team on to the floor against Lake View High School Tuesday night because of alleged poor officiating.

The game was forfeited to Lake View, which was ahead, 66-49, at the time.

Anna-Jonesboro Ends Pinckneyville Home Win Streak

PINCKNEYVILLE, Ill. — A home game winning streak ended at 58 games Tuesday night as Anna-Jonesboro downed Pinckneyville, 39-37, in the second overtime period.

The 58-game record was believed to be the best ever run up by an Illinois prep basketball team.

Ranked third in the United Press weekly prep poll, Pinckneyville with a 23-2 record, remained in the Southwest Egyptian conference lead.

Roanoke, Cumberland and Edwardsville picked up victories elsewhere on the prep cage scene Tuesday night. Roanoke and Cumberland both now sport perfect 25-0 won-lost records.

Roanoke made Benson its 25th victim by an 87-65 margin. Cumberland conquered Casey, 75-59. Edwardsville, rated No. 9 in the U. P. poll, outlasted Litchfield, 73-71, for its 19th win in 23 games.

Westville registered an eastern Illinois surprise by topping Paris, 53-51. Paris led going into the final quarter but Westville then outscored the Tigers 15-5 in that period to win.

HTHS Freshmen Beat Herrin, 55-51; Play At Marion Thursday

The Harrisburg freshman basketball team goes to Marion tomorrow night to meet the Marion frosh, after having beaten another Williamson county entry earlier this week.

Monday evening Herrin freshmen played Coach Jim McKee's boys at Davenport gym and the locals won, 55 to 51.

Harrisburg led all the way, the score being 13-8 at the quarter, 28-22 at halftime and 47-37 at the end of the third period.

McKee used 11 local boys in this game. Bob Clark had 21 points, Ray Hassett 15, Bill Yates 10, Eddie Price 2, Donald Biggs 2, L. J. Banks 2, Mickey Stone 2 and Jerry Hicks 1. Zan Hefer, Jon Frohock and Ira Logan also played.

Archie Moore Hits Marciano-Cockell Bout

GROSSINGER, N. Y. — Rocky Marciano went ahead with plans today to defend his heavyweight title against Don Cockell in May at San Francisco despite the outraged protest of Archie Moore, who has wired the governor of California urging him to prevent the bout.

Moore took the action shortly after Rocky's manager, Al Weill, pronounced Marciano's previously injured nose was sufficiently healed to permit a title defense in May.

Although Weill announced that the bout with British Empire champion Cockell "probably would be held in San Francisco or London," it was believed definite that Marciano will fight outdoors in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, where Promoter Jimmy Murray predicted a million dollar gate.

"I am going to do everything possible to halt the match," said Moore in Toledo, Ohio, where he revealed he had sent a wire to the governor of California.

"The gamblers in Las Vegas were too honest to permit the fight there," added the 38-year-old light heavyweight champion who has been clamoring for a heavyweight title shot for almost a year, "and they couldn't get the fight in New York so they're trying to palm it off on California."

Bobby Gleason, manager of Cuba's Nino Valdez, who also considered himself in line for a shot at the title, accepted Weill's announcement almost stoically.

"If the American people will stand for a match like that," he said, "what can I possibly say?"

Marciano, meanwhile, received Weill's blessing to step up his training pace. The champion boxed three rounds with sparmate Keene Simmons of Bayonne, N. J., Tuesday in his first public session since Ezzard Charles lost to him but inflicted a deep cut on his nose last Sept. 17.

"He hit me four or five times on the nose but it felt all right," said Marciano, following the workout.

Thinking in Reverse: Robinson Says Beating Proves He's Still Top Fighter

(Harry Grayson is on vacation)
By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Two days after Tiger Jones had thoroughly humiliated him in Chicago, Ray Robinson made up his mind to fight again.

He made it up while Ernie Bracca and Vic Marsillo, who manage prize fighters as a team, were having a cup of coffee in a midtown restaurant.

The phone rang, and Bracca went to answer it. When he returned with the game that made him rich, "I still can't lick anybody around," he insisted.

"The way the fellow talked—and he talked for two hours," Bracca says, "we had to listen to him—and believe him, too."

It is because of this that Robinson is back in a training camp and Bracca and Marsillo are on the long distance phones, making matches for the fighter they now hand.

"I accused him," Marsillo says, "of making a Gettysburg Address in the middle of his talk. He began to yell about the public and his pride, and I thought he was laying it on real thick."

"But I found out something about him. This is a guy with more pride than anybody I've ever seen. He just won't give up. He is like a dame somebody just called ugly."

The newspapers and television are responsible for Robinson's dates with Joe Arthur at Louisville, Ky., early next month and Johnny Lombardo in Cincinnati. Stories of the Jones fight, plus the fact millions saw his pitiful exhibition, stung the ex-champ. He burned up, because nobody in the world believes Ray Robinson was a great fighter more than the guy himself.

So, he reshuffled the set-up around him, demoting George Gainford to trainer, putting Joe

Ray Robinson

Glaser out of the boxing picture entirely. In their place, Robinson asked Bracca and Marsillo to take over.

"We took him," Bracca says, "because if the guy can fight half as well as he talks we'll make a million dollars with him. If he can't fight, we'll pack it in after two matches. That's all we're giving him—two fights to look good."

On the first leg of his comeback trail, Robinson went into training with a scornful attitude. His sparring partners offered little resistance. Gainford and Glaser didn't push him. They let him have his head.

As a result, against Jones, Robinson seemed like a guy who never had fought before. He had no idea of distance. He was lousy and he knows it. "In fact, that fight is one of the reasons why I know I can come back," he insists. "If that boy Jones was a fighter he would have knocked me out. But he didn't—and I wasn't even a bit myself. I'll come back again and give him the whipping of his life."

For Robinson to talk this way, while he still can remember the punch-after-punch beating Jones gave him—one of the two real beatings he ever took—there must be some belief in him that he still can fight.

Or it could be, as Marsillo points out, the tremendous ego he has. If it is pride alone remaining, it better be awful strong pride. And if it turns out that the talent is still there, Robinson will be one of the few around who won't be surprised.

Airmail Not Always Fastest Method, UP Survey Shows

By United Press
Regular mail sometimes beats airmail and postcards sometimes beat first class letters, a check of postal deliveries in eight Midwestern states showed today.
The United Press conducted the check last week. Three types of mail were interchanged among 13 cities—air mail, regular first class mail and postal cards.
All of the mail was deposited in downtown postal boxes at noon.
What Happened To It
This is what happened to it: An air mail letter from Chicago to Lincoln, Neb., was received 24 hours after a regular first class letter carrying a 3-cent stamp.
A postal card from Des Moines was delivered in Chicago three hours before a regular first class letter. A postal card from Minneapolis beat a first class letter into the Chicago U. P. bureau by four hours.
Letters sent from Springfield, Ill., and Pierre, S. D., were received in Bismarck, N. D., at the same time. Pierre is a little more than 200 miles from Bismarck, Springfield five times that far.
An air mail letter from Chicago was delivered in Indianapolis three hours after a regular letter.
The Survey Summary
Air mail, regular first class mail and postal cards were received at the same time—
In Chicago from Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Madison, Wis., and Lincoln.
In Des Moines from Chicago, Omaha and Milwaukee.
In Minneapolis from Chicago.
In Milwaukee from Springfield and Madison.
In Sioux Falls, S. D., from Pierre.
In Pierre from Sioux Falls.
In Bismarck from Pierre and Springfield.
In Omaha from Chicago, Des Moines and Lincoln.
In Lincoln from Omaha.
In Indianapolis from Milwaukee.
In Springfield from Chicago, Milwaukee and Marion, Ill.
In Marion from Chicago.
In Madison from Chicago and Milwaukee.
The survey seemed to indicate that mail users might save money by checking on postal schedules before deciding how to send a letter.
Better Service at Noon

The time required to get a letter from the sender to the addressee depends to a great extent on when it is posted. A post office spokesman said that mail schedules may afford better air service between two points at noon, than, say, at 6 p. m.
Also, he said, there sometimes are unforeseen delays in schedules caused by such factors as the weather and accidents.
Sometimes, he said, air mail is not the fastest method of getting letters from one town to another. He said postal workers are instructed to route first class mail the quickest way even if it means sending "air mail" by train.
He said the 24-hour delay in the Chicago-to-Lincoln air mail letter was an exception.
Air Mail Letters Win
Air mail letters won these races with regular first class mail:
From Indianapolis to Minneapolis by 24 hours, Indianapolis to Milwaukee by five hours and Indianapolis to Bismarck by 12 hours.
From Springfield to Chicago by four hours, Springfield to Minneapolis by five hours.
From Des Moines to Milwaukee by five hours, Des Moines to Chicago by four hours and Des Moines to Bismarck by 12 hours.
From Minneapolis to Chicago by four hours, Minneapolis to Indianapolis by 17 hours and Minneapolis to Springfield by 19 hours.
From Pierre to Chicago by 20 hours.
From Omaha to Sioux Falls by six hours and Omaha to Minneapolis by three hours.
From Chicago to Pierre by 15 hours.
From Sioux Falls to Omaha by 12 hours.
From Bismarck to Indianapolis by 17 hours, Bismarck to Springfield by 19 hours, Bismarck to Pierre by 24 hours and Bismarck to Des Moines by 24 hours.
The spokesman said that postal cards, when they don't contain advertising, are handled the same as regular first class letters. He said he could not understand why the postal cards used in the test were not delivered at the same time as the letters.

Jury Questions Cab Driver in Ransom Case

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Former taxicab driver John O. Hager was scheduled to testify for the third straight day about kidnaper-killer Carl Austin Hall's last hours of freedom.
Hager is undergoing an intense examination before a federal grand jury which is trying to discover what became of more than half the $600,000 ransom Hall received for 6-year-old Bobby Greenlee.
A bellhop from a downtown hotel and another cab driver were also scheduled to appear before the grand jury.
It was indicated the jury was carefully checking Hager's testimony by calling other witnesses to verify it.
Meanwhile, the Missouri Highway Patrol investigated mysterious diggings on a farm near Bland, Mo., where speculation was high that someone had sought and found the Greenlee ransom.
A large round imprint was found in the diggings near a tree where a container apparently had been removed, Patrolman J. A. Walker said.
He said the owner of the farm, Richard L. Terrill, apparently did not know about the excavation until several weeks later. Walker said he learned that several men from St. Louis trucked in a bulldozer on Jan. 17 and completed their work before noon.
Bland is 75 miles from St. Louis. Hager drove Hall about St. Louis on a protracted binge and then tipped off two policemen on where they could find him on Oct. 6, 1953.
The policemen, Lt. Louis Shoulters and Patrolman Elmer Dolan, are now serving prison terms on charges of lying about how they handled the ransom money.
Hall, who went to the Gas chamber with his accomplice, Mrs. Bonnie Hager, insisted up to the end that he had most of the ransom money with him when he was arrested. But less than $300,000 was found.
The money was obtained from his victim's father, Robert Greenlee Sr., a wealthy Kansas City, Mo., automobile dealer.

Howarth got 14,540 votes of the 29,000 cast in Springfield's city primary Tuesday, with O'Keefe second with 8,432. Two other candidates trailed far behind.

The program chairman asked that all leaders assemble their material for the Girl Scout window, the place to be announced later.
The cookie chairman, Mrs. C. R. Vantrease, announced that the cookies would go on sale March 1 and continue through March 15.
The meeting was dismissed by the president.

Mrs. John reported Brownies No. 6 and No. 9 at the McKinley second grade organized, and a new Brownie troop No. 21 at Eldorado.

War II's Youngest Combat General Suffers Injuries

PITTSBURGH, Calif. (AP) — World War II's youngest combat general, who survived eight wounds, was in critical condition today with injuries suffered in an automobile accident.
Major Gen. Robert L. Frederick, 47, was injured Monday night when he lost control of his pickup truck while trying to adjust a window. The truck smashed into a tree, pitching Frederick's head through the windshield.
The retired officer became the youngest general commanding frontline infantry troops in World War II when he was made a major general in 1945 at the age of 37. He had command of the 45th Infantry Division.
He won the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest honor, with an oak leaf cluster; a Distinguished Service Medal with an oak leaf cluster; a Silver Star; and a Purple Heart with seven clusters.
Frederick, a native of San Francisco, was graduated from West Point in 1928. He retired from the Army in 1952 because of a disability.

Nixon Assures 'Good Neighbor' Policy In U. S. Bi-Partisan

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday assured President Oscar Osorio of El Salvador that the "good neighbor policy" has full bi-partisan backing in the United States.
Nixon paid a courtesy call on Osorio shortly after his arrival here on the fourth stage of a 7,500-mile, 10-nation goodwill tour of Central America and the Caribbean.
Osorio said that President Eisenhower and former President Truman have "shown great cooperation" and expressed hope that Nixon's visit "will result in even more decisive cooperation."
Nixon assured Osorio that "regardless of any change in the po-

H-Fallout Can Kill All in 7,000 Mile Area: AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that under "the worst possible conditions" radioactive fallout from a giant H-bomb could kill every person in a 7,000-square mile area downwind from the explosion.
This estimate, described as "extreme," was made by the Atomic Energy Commission in the first official report on the radioactive menace to life of a "very large" H-bomb like the one tested by the United States at Bikini last March 1.
The AEC considered what might have happened if that bomb had burst in a populated region. If it had, about 7,000 square miles of territory downwind from the explosion would have been "so contaminated that survival might have depended upon prompt evacuation of the area or upon taking shelter and other protective measures."
If Washington were the target of such a bomb, and if the wind direction was generally northeastward, unprotected persons among the more than 11 million persons in a wide belt extending from here through metropolitan New York would be in jeopardy of their lives.
Fallout is the rain of intensely radioactive particles, each bearing invisible danger, which sifts down over a wide area after a nuclear explosion.
The AEC said it was publishing general data on the H-bomb's radioactive threat because "nuclear weapons are in possession of the U. S. S. R." It said it believes the American people want to know what the dangers are and what they can do "to protect themselves if an atomic attack should ever occur."
Pure silver is too soft for commercial use.
Political control of the U. S., all agree on the necessity and value of maintaining close friendship with the American Republics."
